With so much happening within our local political landscape, FoodSpark invites you to join us in a potluck discussion around the future of leadership in our city. We will discuss the upcoming election as well as next year's mayoral election and issues that we as residents think candidates should prioritize.

Food Theme: What St. Louisians Like

Consider bringing a dish you consider typical of St. Louis culture: toasted ravioli, anything with provol cheese, gooey butter cake, pork steaks, or hopefully something even more delicious.
